If you would like to be featured on our main page, send us an email and let us know about your site and why you think it's great. We'll check it out and add you to our directory usually within 24 hours. You can also add a link and description here if you join TampaBlogs. Please, also make sure that your site is actually a blog. If you are a local business, feel free to email us about advertising options, we do offer banner ad design at very competitive rates.
